EDMONTON, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28, 1954

Editor of Athabasca Echo, B. W. Bellamy, Dies After Lengthy Illness

ATHABASCA—The publisher of the Athabasca Echo since 1942, B. W. Bellamy, passed away on Monday, April 19, in the Athabasca hospital. Mr. Bellamy had been in poor health for the last year which forced him to curtail some of his many community activities.

Born in Newbury, Middlesex County, Ontario, in 1879, Mr. Bellamy learned the printing business from his father who worked on the "Sun" in the town of Ingersoll. He worked on the staff of many local newspapers of various towns in Ontario which gave him a wide knowledge of newspaper printing.

He was married in 1900 to Belle Knox in the town of Orillia. After his marriage he worked on the "News-Letter" for several years before moving to Huntsville to work on the "Forester."

Mr. Bellamy came west in 1907 to work in the town of Medicine Hat where he was a charter member of the Medicine Hat local of the typographical union. In 1926 he moved to the town of Wetaskiwin where he worked with the staff of the "Times." His next move was to Athabasca where he owned and published the "Echo" beginning in 1942.

Mr. Bellamy was a strong union man and was a charter member of the Medicine Hat local. His membership in the Edmonton Typographical Union covered many years as he had already received his 40-year button before his illness.

Amateur athletes in the province have lost a lifelong friend and ardent supporter with the death of Mr. Bellamy, who has been a member and officer of the Amateur Athletic Union for many years. He was president of the Alberta branch of the union for two years in 1925 and 1926. He was elected secretary-treasurer of the Alberta branch in 1930 and served continuously until a few weeks before his death. He was also vice-president of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada in 1951-52 and was National Registration Chairman for the last two years.

Mr. Bellamy was a member of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks in Wetaskiwin and a charter member of the B.P.O.E. lodge, No. 328, at Athabasca.

In local affairs, Mr. Bellamy took an active part in supporting community projects to which he gave untiring efforts over the last ten years. The Board of Trade had made much progress during the four years he served as secretary-treasurer and the three years as president. The Air Cadets also received a share of his efforts on their civilian committee. He also helped to organize and support the baseball league for the towns in this area.

He is survived by his widow, who lives in Edmonton; a son, Jack, of Medicine Hat, brother, Albert, and two grandsons.

Funeral services were held at Athabasca United Church on Thursday, April 22, with the Rev. Gordon East officiating. A graveside service was held by the Athabasca Lodge of the B.P.O.E., No. 328. Athabasca Funeral Parlor was in charge of arrangements for the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Rene Legall take their young daughter to Lac la Biche every day for medical treatment. She was bitten by a dog.

The snow is going away but the roads are being flooded in places. Bans are placed on the roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Alain Amiot were home for Easter. Mr. and Mrs. Amiot are staying in Edmonton.

People motored to Plamondon on Easter Monday to dance to the music of Fiddling Ross.

A nice dance was held in Atmore Hall on Wednesday, April 21. Music was supplied by Mr. George Sauef and his Northern Ramblers from Athabasca.

Water Level To Be Raised In Lac la Biche Lake

LAC LA BICHE — For some time residents in this area and fishermen in particular have been concerned about the serious drop in the level of the water of this lake. There has been a serious decrease in the fish population necessitating the closure of the lake to certain types of commercial fishing. The drop in the water level is believed to be largely responsible for this decrease.

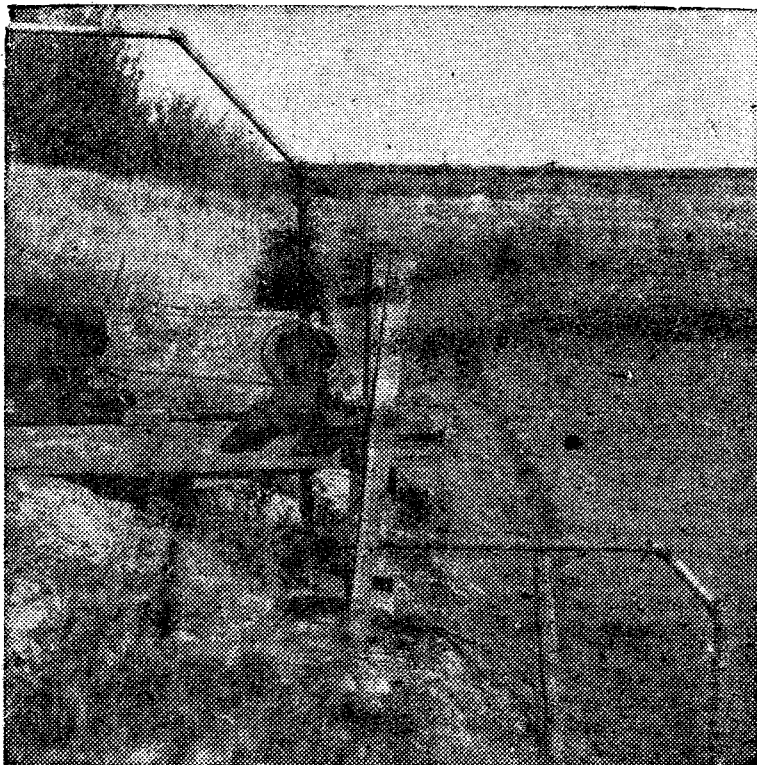

Plans are now under way by the Water Resources Branch to dam the Lac la Biche River which drains the lake into the Athabasca River. It is planned to raise the water level by about two feet.

Caslan

Last Friday evening friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Gordon for a miscellaneous shower in honor of their son Pat and his wife, the former Miss Hazel Saarela. The newlyweds received many useful gifts.

Mr. Donald Henson has gone to Edmonton to work.

The Easter school holidays came at an opportune time as the roads were breaking up, making it difficult for the van driver, Mike Kniazky, to get through. There are also several cases of measles reported in the district.

STORING SURPLUS WATER—Construction of 48,324 water conservation projects on individual farms has been made possible over the past 18 years in the Prairie provinces through technical and financial assistance provided farmers under the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act. These projects consist of 39,544 dugouts, 6,077 stock-watering dams and 2,703 small irrigation schemes, all designed to catch and hold spring runoff which otherwise would be lost to streams and rivers. The water stored in these reservoirs is utilized in the drier months when other sources are not sufficient.

This picture shows how a farmer near Marston, Saskatchewan, pumps water from a dugout to irrigate his garden.

Ontario is also making good use of farm ponds to catch and hold surplus water in the spring. The Ontario Department of Agriculture has had a steadily increasing demand for engineering surveys for ponds. It increased from 100 such requests in 1951 to over 600 in 1953. In addition surveys are made by other agencies, such as the River Valley authorities. Prof. C. G. E. Downing, Head of the Agricultural Engineering Department, Ontario Agricultural College, estimates there are presently from 4,500 to 5,000 farm ponds of all types in use in the province. The purposes to which these ponds are put, he states, are approximately 40 per cent for watering live stock, 20 per cent for irrigation, 20 per cent for recreation and wild life, and the remainder for fire protection, spray water, or domestic use. About three-quarters of them serve more than one purpose.—(National Film Board photo).

MAY SOON RAISE DELIVERY QUOTAS AT ALBERTA POINTS

Many grain producers have wondered at the seeming contradiction whereby some local elevators have empty bins while the local delivery quota is not increased.

It is interesting to know that of the 590 delivery points in the Province of Alberta, the quota of five bushels per cultivated acre is still in effect at 442 points, and at 40 of these points there has not been space available to handle the full 5-bushel quota. The quota has been raised to six bushels per cultivated acre at 100 points and to seven bushels per acre at 48 points.

There is also in effect a supplementary quota of 12 bushels per seeded acre for oats.

At the present time special consideration is being given to shipments of malting barley, while Durham wheat and flax are free of quota restrictions.

The Board is looking over the situation with a view to raising the quota where space is available.

It should be pointed out that whereas five or six bushels per acre appears to be a pitifully small quota, still this is based on the cultivated acreage of all land whether sown to cereal crops for sale or not. On farms given over to mixed raising of stock as well as grain for delivery to elevators it represents often as much as 20 or 30 bushels per acre of land actually sown to grain for sale through the Wheat Board.

Lac la Biche Creamery Ready To Start Daily Milk Deliveries

LAC LA BICHE—After several months of careful planning, installation of equipment, and rebuilding plans are complete for daily milk delivery service in Lac la Biche.

Mr. L. Badry, proprietor of the creamery, has stated that total equipment necessary to start the milk business has cost approximately $9,000.00. Mr. Badry has purchased a fully modern pasteurizing unit complete with automatic bottling and capping machine, bottle washer, and milk wagon.

The milk will be brought in early each morning from the farm of R. Pequette of Plamondon. The milk will be pasturized and delivered the same morning. Besides milk there will also be delivered:

Students' Union To Make Industrial Tour Of Edmonton

LAC LA BICHE — Thursday, April 15, was the scene of a jubilant group of students at the Dr. Swift School. Some of the 400 students were happy at the thought of 10 days' holidays, but the high school students were happily anticipating their trip to Edmonton.

The students are leaving by school van on the 21st, and will spend four days in the city, arriving back home on the 24th. The students will have a busy program during each day as they plan to visit the following sites and companies: The University Campus Legislative Buildings, Victoria Composite High School, The Edmonton Civic Airport, Woodland Dairies, Imperial Oil Refineries, Edmonton Journal, and the Fire Hall.

According to one of the students the evenings are free for fun and frolic. It should be possible for the students to have fun as they will all be staying at the Twin Birch Auto Court. The girls will be under the supervision of Miss Rita Pelletier and boys will be under the watchful eye of Mr. J. Strembitsky. Mr. McMillan will join the students on Wednesday, after he returns from Calgary.

Besides gaining considerable knowledge from their tour the students, especially the girls, should develop their housekeeping talents, for they will do their own cooking.

Two places will probably be of special interest to the students. They will enjoy touring the halls of learning in both the University and the Victoria Composite. Some of the students will have some interesting comparisons to make between Victoria High and their own school.

Both teachers and students felt that the trip would be very educational and enjoyable and few people will disagree. The trip is being financed from Students' Union funds. Mr. Nick Fedorchuk is providing the transportation.

SEED CLEANING PLANT TALKED ABOUT

By PETER B. ANDRUSKI, Boyle

BOYLE—It is again that time of the year, when farmers are preparing their grain for another crop year; and the question of a Seed Cleaning Plant for Boyle and District again arises.

Boyle again has reached its million bushel mark in the grain market and once more say that the ideal place for such a plant is here. It is hoped that the D.A. will realize the need for such a plant in this district, and that he will make a special effort to organize the farmers, and point out the advantages that such plants will provide.

Reports are that at least sixty per cent of the grain now seeded will not pass drill tests. The only way this may be remedied is to have proper cleaning facilities, that will improve the quality of the grain seeded. It is just as important as registered Bulls are to the district, and unless the Agricultural service points out to the people the importance of these matters, they will not realize how badly this country is getting polluted with weeds. They do not realize how much more the average farmer spends in trying to destroy the weeds he has planted, and probably don't stop to realize what their actual losses are in weeds that are delivered to the elevators.

If this matter is not of importance enough, I would say that our Agricultural Service Board of the District is failing us. Let us be sincere in our work and support those who are behind such a project.

It is of the utmost importance that the project and ground work be continued, and I am certain that the Agricultural Service Board will not fail us.

Weather Delays
Civic Census Here

EDMONTON (BUP) — Edmonton's Assistant City Assessor and Tax Collector, John Pollock, says the 1954 civic census has been delayed by mud conditions in outlying areas and by the weather.

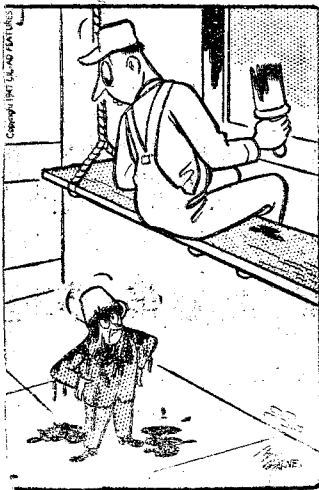

Pollock said he hopes the census will be completed by May 15th when the results must be turned over to the provincial government.

Only five of the 93 census takers in the city have completed their jobs so far. The count was started March 29th, and usually takes about a month.

The enumerators are listing residents in Edmonton, their marital status and their housing classification.

City Workers
Share Profit

ROCHESTER, N.H. — Because city workers helped to pile up a $55,000 surplus in the municipal treasury, Mayor John Shaw says they are going to get "profit sharing" pay increases. The Mayor said the efficiency of the 75 city employees was a big factor in bringing about the surplus.

NO GRINDING, NO MIXING, NO HAULING

WHY?

Birds have been supplied by nature with a gizzard to do their own grinding. When you feed North West free choice Growing Supplement the birds will eat only enough to balance their own feed.

HOW TO FEED:

After the birds are eight weeks old and off chick starter, start North West free choice Growing Supplement Crumbles and whole grain, equal parts wheat and heavy whole oats, some barley may be fed if the birds like it. Always have one hopper with the free choice crumbles and four times as much feeding space for the whole grain. Even if you have no hoppers you can feed the Free Choice Growing Supplement Crumbles in a trough and scatter the whole grain on clean ground. Do not let the supply of Free Choice Growing Supplement run out.

RESULTS:

Very much less work. More even, healthier chickens. Each bird balances its own feed as nature has shown them how to do. Laying flocks on this method now are laying 75% to 85% and the eggs are hatching 77% to 88% on recent reports.

Turkeys fed this way are hatching well over 60% of all eggs set.

One day when I was very young, we were eating dinner at a neighbor's place. The hostess asked me if I would like some jam. I said I did, so she passed a bowl full to me. I took it and not knowing any better, thought I was supposed to eat the whole bowl full. I did my best but I couldn't finish it all. Nobody said much about it at the table but when I was told my mistake later I felt very embarrassed. I still feel very silly whenever it is brought to my mind. Greedy.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

She Did

A husband had been making the rounds New Year's Eve. Returning home full of holiday spirits, he stood in a corner arms outstretched, and said over and over "I'm a Christmas tree, I'm a Christmas tree, but I haven't any ornaments."

Just then his wife came in and hung one on him.

Just The Same

Jack—Do you act toward your wife the same as you did before you were married?

Bill—Just the same. I remember when I first fell in love with her I would lean over the fence of her house, gaze at her shadow on the curtain, afraid to go in.

And I do the same thing now.

Profitable Offer

The widow was inconsolable, weeping steadily for three days. Everybody was talking about it. Then, the insurance man came with a check for $50,000.

Bravely, she smiled through her tears and said haltingly, "I'd gladly give $10,000 of this to have him back."

Should Alberta Farmers Be Independent?

At the rate things are going, it won't be too long before the majority of Alberta farms have been electrified. It is being accomplished by means of a co-operative arrangement between the Provincial Government, the privately-owned power companies and locally owned co-operatives for distribution of power in local farm areas.

In this editorial we can't go into the details of how this all operates but the system is getting results, and Alberta farmers are getting electric power without asking citizens in other industries to pay for it.

Everybody seems to be happy about it except Henry Young, President of the Farmers' Union. Apparently Mr. Young is still insistent that the Alberta farmer is not capable of standing on his own feet, but should call, hat in hand, on the town and urban resident to aid him in buying the means of rural electrification.

We don't think the average Alberta farmer expects to have the public purse pay for his home installations of electric power anymore than he would want the job of paying for the city housewife's connection for an electric stove, for instance. Most farmers know that the majority of the people working in cities — white-collared workers and others — don't earn as much money and don't have as good a life with the same security as the farmer.

There is something else Henry failed to mention and that is as soon as the farmer invests, say $1,000.00 in getting his farm electrified the value of the farm jumps at least $2,000.00 immediately and in some cases $3,000.00. More is obtained for a farm after it has been electrified than the sale price would have been before. In other words, the farmer in investing $1,000.00 is getting farm electrification the same way as a person invests in a building or in a lot, or in buying shares or an insurance policy. He, however, advocates that the Government should pay the $1,000.00 and that the farmer's estate should be increased by two or three thousand as well. What would happen if a farmer sold his farm after the Government had paid to have it electrified? Would they refund to the Government the increased value of his farm by virtue of the investment to the purchaser?

We think its time Mr. Young came out and announced that the Government's policy of Free Enterprise in Farm Electrification is working out pretty well and quit begging to have city taxpayers pay for farmers' electric lines and installations.

The Twenty-fifth Child

Mr. and Mrs. Heiodore Cyr, of Ledges, New Brunswick, recently became parents of a newborn baby for the twenty-fifth time. In the twenty-six years they have been married, Mrs. Cyr has given birth to twenty-five babies.

Because not all of the babies have lived the Cyr's only have eighteen children, but they are managing all right, with a dozen and a half. Mrs. Cyr is forty-two, having married at seventeen, and has never experienced a multiple birth. Therefore, she has missed only one year in giving birth to a baby in the twenty-six years she and her husband have been married.

The Cyr's live on a 400-acre farm and raise their own food for the most part. In addition, they raise sheep, from which they get wool, with which mother and daughters make clothes.

The most surprising thing about the Cyr's existence is the attitude of Mrs. Cyr. At 42, with the responsibility of all these children, one would think she would be about willing to surrender. However, Mrs. Cyr says she wants more babies.

Note and Comment

Potato production in Alberta in a typical year amounts to about 1,820 carloads. Consumption totals 1,350, but of this amount some 200 cars of early "new potatoes" are imported from California and another 80 carloads from British Columbia. This leaves a surplus of about 650 carloads of home-grown potatoes for the export market.

Wanted: More People!

If there is one thing our current big farm surpluses indicate, it is that Canada needs more people. Under the pressure of our growing economy, we need more workers to guide and turn the wheels of industry. Just as important, we should have a greater population here at home to consume the crops produced on our farms.

Immigration—continued, large scale immigration — is the key to our future, continued prosperity and well-being, economically speaking. Hitherto our rate of admittance of immigrants to Canada has been too slow. It is time the break in the wall was enlarged and the willing-to-work, hungry peoples of Europe were admitted.

Some mis-guided labour leaders have the mistaken idea that more workers from other countries will mean less jobs in Canada for our present labour force. Nothing could be further from the truth. Every worker brings with him (or is responsible for, ultimately) three or four non-working family members. These all become consumers. More consumers mean more jobs. More jobs call for more workers and result in an expanded economy, and greater prosperity for all.

Let's widen the break in the barriers against immigration and assure a continued future of prosperity for Canada.

Hobbies Are Good Medicine

Recreation and hobbies are good for all ages. The busy worker who sticks close to his job without having any other interests isn't doing himself any particular good. A sedentary job should be offset with spare-time recreation that will provide suitable exercise, while the worker who is on his feet all day will probably enjoy a more restful type of hobby.

Church Urges Pulpit Thunder

(Peterborough Examiner)

The United Church, at its annual meeting, heard a report from Dr. James Mutchmor, in which he called for "more pulpit thunder," in which the church would vigorously attack sin of all sorts — civic corruption, financial greed, totalitarian governments, and irresponsible use of power by management, labor and farm federations.

This sounds interesting, and we hope that something comes of it.

People like rousing sermons, and are stirred by them as they are not by scholarly disquisitions, by theological instruction or by lectures on ethics. We have sometimes thought that a preacher who would announce, and deliver, seven lively sermons on the Seven Deadly Sins—Pride, Avarice, Anger, Gluttony, Lechery, Sloth and Envy—would pack his church.

People like to hear about sin, and it cannot be argued that the Seven Deadly Sins which so much exercised the medieval church are not active among us at present.

Some of the names of the sins have an unaccustomed ring in modern ears. Sloth, for instance, is not a sin of which many people feel themselves to be guilty. But when we recall that some medieval preachers called it Languid Indifference, we recognize it at once in the life of our day; the slothful are those upon whose lips the catch phrase "I couldn't care less" finds such a comfortable home.

And we should remember, too, that the medieval church was never completely in agreement about these sins; some preachers insisted that gloominess was a deadly sin, for it was the enemy of hope and a slow poison to the heart of man. In our day of the hydrogen bomb and of seemingly endless international conferences, gloominess is having a field day, and is damning many a soul to a hell on earth, if not to a hell hereafter.

Pulpit thunder went out of fashion about 30 years ago. It was killed by preachers who could not distinguish between the real thunder of religious conviction, and the fake thunder which they made when they thumped the pulpit.

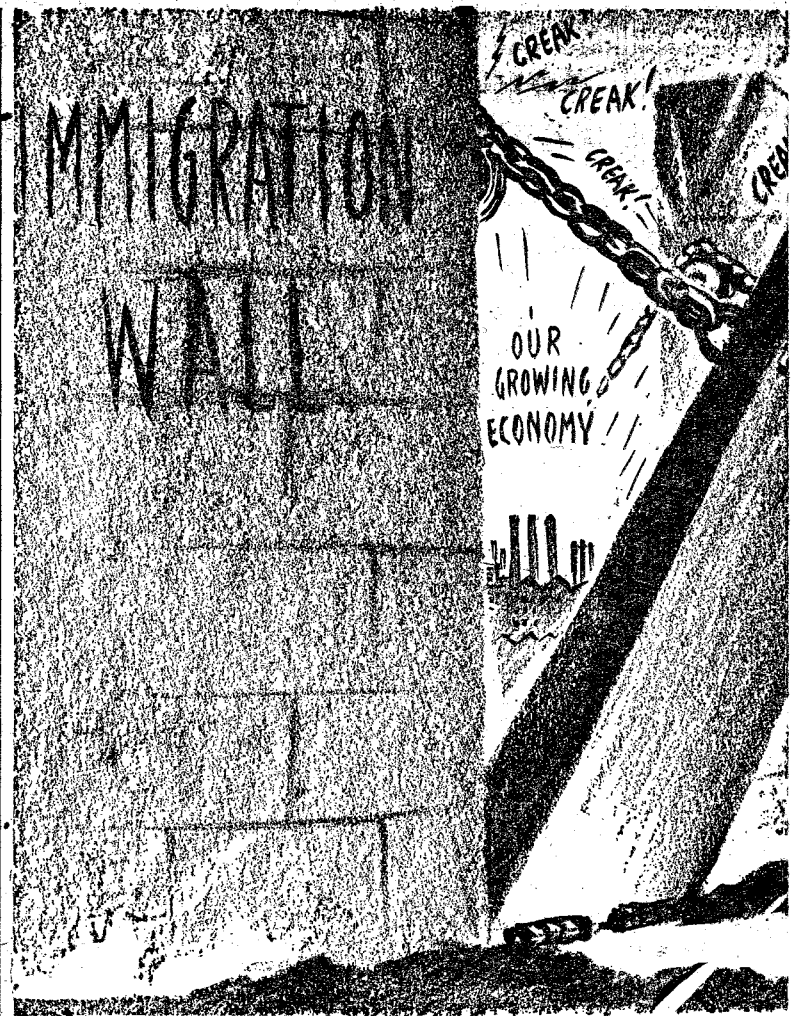

They were the men who advertised widely that on a certain Sunday they would preach on "The Meanest Man in Town—and Name Him From the Pulpit". When the eager crowds turned up they were told that the meanest man in town was Old Man Satan.

This was not what they had been promised, and they became shy of such promises. They preferred to stay at home and nominate their own candidate for the title of Meanest Man.

Pulpit thunder — the real thing — is due for a revival. The United Church has called for it, and we shall keep our ear to the ground for the rumblings. We are sure that Dr. Mutchmor is right and that it would be very welcome.

TIME FOR RESERVE TRAINING FACTS ABOUT THE BIBLE

The co-operation given by Canadian employers during the past year greatly assisted the Reserve components of our Navy, Army and Air Force in fulfilling their yearly training programmes. They are now further advanced along the road to being prepared to supplement the Regular Force in their present commitments.

As you know, one of the most important phases of Reserve training is the annual exercises at training centres across Canada during the summer months. Here the knowledge gained during the winter is applied. These exercises cannot be successful unless a high percentage of Reserve Officers and men are able to attend, and their ability to attend often depends upon the willingness of employers to facilitate these arrangements. Because of their previous support in encouraging employees to serve in Canada's reserve forces and to attend their summer training, I do not hesitate to solicit the renewed co-operation of all employers in this work of national service.

Minister of National Defence,

WHAT OTHERS SAY:

EDITOR WORKED TO LAST

A few weeks ago, William C. Noakes, veteran editor of the Brandon Daily Sun, died. The Winnipeg Tribune says that one of the tributes to him is that a short time before 1951, on the occasion of his 80th birthday — he predicted that he would continue to work as long as he was physically able to do so, for retirement had no place in his plans.

William "Bill" Noakes was a working newspaper man until death came to him recently. As

The Bible is of the greatest importance to the people in this atomic age because it is God's inspired Word of truth. This fact though not believed by scoffers can be proved beyond a question of doubt.

Archaeology has dug up a host of ancient coins, monuments and clay tablets with inscriptions verifying the Bible account of events. Geology and its findings in the fossil deposits and rock strata have added an abundance of testimony in support of the Biblical record. And many other scientific facts known to man have likewise given credence and veracity to what is written in the Bible. Non-Christian writers of ancient times—men like Tacitus, Celsus, Lucian, Suetonius, Josephus, Pliny the Younger, etc., conform many of the historical names, places and events mentioned in the Scriptures. All of which proves that the Bible is not a collection of fictitious folklore and mythical fairy tales, but rather is indisputably true.

But the Bible is more than just the writings of honest men; it is more than just an accurate history of ancient happenings. Much of it is Prophecy, a prediction of events of the future. Now, no human imagination can foresee and foretell the future with any degree of accuracy or in any exact detail, but the Bible does. This therefore furnishes the most positive kind of proof that the Bible was written under divine inspiration, that its real Author is Jehovah God, as it is written; "For the Prophecy came not in the old time by the will of man, but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the holy spirit." 2 Peter 1:21.

G.H.

the editor of the Brandon Sun, he had written the editorials for the following day's paper. The thought of quitting his job and retiring was far from the mind of this dean of Western newspapermen.

Bill Noakes was an entertaining companion. His experience in many countries — he did not settle down to be editor of the Sun until he was 50 — his ability to express himself vividly and forcefully, his friendliness made him a captivating personality.

Letters to Louisa

Should Young Couple Rush Into Marriage Before Man Joins Army?

Dear Louisa,

I have a special boy friend and he is 21 years old and I am 18. He is the only one I go with and is joining the army soon. He is nice to me and to my parents. We want to get married soon but my parents don't want me to. We want to get married before he goes in the army. What do you think about it? I want an answer soon.

N. C.

Answer:

There are so many things to be taken into consideration before a girl marries that it would be impossible for me to advise you knowing so little of the circumstances of this situation.

What kind of a boy is he? Does he have a job and will he be able to take care of you if you marry and have a family? How long have you known him and do you both feel that this is not a passing love affair but one that will last?

If the boy is a good character and can provide for you and a family and you are mature enough to settle down and take on the responsibilities of a wife and mother. I can see no objection to your marriage.

Louisa.

Dear Louisa,

I am going out with a very nice boy and he wants to get married but I just don't have time. I work all day and then I have work to do when I get home. Can you tell me what to do?

J. B.

Answer:

I don't think you wish to get married very badly or I am sure you could find the time. Or is it that your friend is one of those men who doesn't care about work himself, but would like to find a soft spot to loaf? If that is the case, perhaps it is fortunate that you are so busy.

Louisa.

Prevent Mastitis, Increase Production

You can increase your dairy profits by "managed-milking." R. P. Dixon, Supervisor of Dairy Cattle Improvement, Alberta Department of Agriculture, has outlined 10 simple steps helpful in controlling mastitis, the most prevalent and costly disease in dairy cows. They are:

1. Prepare each cow for milking by washing the udder and teats with a mild disinfectant. Use disposable paper towels or individual udder cloths. Cloths should be washed after each use.
2. Use a strip cup on each cow at each milking.
3. Dip the teat cups in a mild disinfectant, and rinse after use on each cow.
4. Remove milk from each cow as soon as she is "milked out."
5. Operate the machine at the speed and vacuum level specified by the manufacturer.
6. Keep the teat cup inflations in good condition.
7. Clean and sterilize inflations following each milking.
8. Milk mastitis-infected cows last.
9. Isolate severe cases of mastitis.
10. Keep the barn in sanitary

EDMONTON (BUP)—A University of Alberta entomologist says the Edmonton area is an "oasis" from crop insects.

Professor E. H. Strickland told a meeting of the Edmonton branch of the Agricultural Institute of Canada that Edmonton district farmers are perhaps the most fortunate in the province. He says there have been no major insect infestations in the area in the last 30 years.

Glass Pitting Theories Many

Reports of glass-pox in Calgary continued to pour in as fast as do explanations of what caused them last week.

Atomic dust, space mice as found in science fiction, mechanical fractures, road conditions, flying stone and sand or meteor dust have all been put forward as causes.

One of the latest explanations comes from Lorne Saunders, of Calgary who pointed out, complete with diagram, how the exhaust pipes of passing cars cause the pitting. He said the new types of gasolines have something in them that passes through the exhaust and strikes the windshield of the car behind at white-hot temperatures.

Several motorists theorized that wind-blown grit from dirty Calgary streets has acted like a sand-blasting machine on some windshields. One driver said that while driving in the country recently, he ran through a quite heavy dust and sandstorm and ended up with windshield pockmarks similar to others reported recently.

Farmers Could Get Rich This Way

An agricultural expert received an inquiry from an amateur poultry-keeper, who asked: "How long should a fowl be allowed to sit on its eggs?"

The expert replied: "Three weeks for chickens; four weeks for ducks."

A month went by and the poultry-keeper sent another letter: "I let the hen sit on the eggs for three weeks," he said, "and no chickens came. I didn't want ducks, so I took her off the nest and sold the eggs."

Request Alberta Anglers To Return 1953 Licences

The Fisheries Branch of the Department of Lands and Forests is asking all Alberta anglers to return their expired 1953 fishing licences.

The licences contain a section where fishermen may list the size, species and locality of their catches. By filling in this information, anglers can assist the Fisheries Branch in collecting statistics which will serve as bases for stocking programs and other scientific research aimed at benefitting the sports fisherman.

All licences are stamped and addressed to the Fisheries Branch so there is no expense to the person returning them. The branch urged return of the licences as soon as possible so statistics could be compiled.

Is This the Education We Want?

L. W. NEWCOMBE, Stacy Plain

Recently, the Alberta government introduced a bill authorizing "emergency teacher training" which will provide six weeks teacher training for qualifying grade 12 students as teachers. These will draw a salary of $200.00 less than the regularly qualified teachers.

It is of course assumed that these partially trained teachers will help to make up the shortage of teachers and that they will take schools away from the centres out in the isolated districts now served by supervisors or in some cases, without schools at all. There are in Alberta, the richest province per capita, some schools without teachers or served by student supervisors, otherwise this act would be unnecessary.

It is called an emergency measure and can be justified only as such, but unfortunately this situation which it is supposed to solve, has existed since 1940 and has become chronic and a feature of our educational system and is a disgrace to a free or so-called democracy.

There are hundreds of schools in Alberta still existing on the outskirts of probably all School Divisions (some of which the writer has seen) where pupils study in poorly lighted dark rooms before pitted dull blackboards on floors worn down with the nails protruding, making them impossible to clean and with no library books or up-to-date maps. These are schools which in their day were well enough, but which today have deteriorated so as to be a danger to health and quite inadequate.

Under the enlarged School Districts, parents of pupils in the outlying districts have become inarticulate and their voice raised in protest is never heard in the Divisional meetings. Great sums of money are spent to build fine splendid schools in central locations which attract the best teachers. There is no intention here to decry all or any of these advances but it has been forgotten that such buildings place a heavy burden of debt on the entire list of taxpayers and increase for all ratepayers their taxes no matter where located, and many derive no benefit therefrom.

Alberta is rich and can no doubt afford these permanent and richly equipped facilities for education, but we can only afford them if, first of all, the needs of all Alberta children for good primary education is satisfied which to date has not been done. It is unfortunate that the Alberta government, whose duty it is, has persistently refused to take effective measures through equalization grants to these scattered school districts, or to give even moral leadership in righting their grievances. Untrained teachers provided by the present legislation are not the answer but such an attempt is both unfair and undemocratic in character and would constitute an attempt to stabilize a bad and immoral situation. Conditions of school buildings and accommodations for teachers must be remedied and salaries made up to parity with other occupations.

Alberta plans to spend out of its $200 million budget 11 per cent for education, the lowest percentage of any province in Canada for 1954-55. Even Saskatchewan with its $14.16 million to be spent on education by its government spends 18 per cent of its budget. Why should we boast of being out of debt or rich unless we are really rich in humanitarian values; in giving to all our citizens equal opportunity no matter where located for education, health and good living.

At Long Last

KOSCIUSKO, Miss. (UP)—This city of 6,800, named in 1834 for the Polish patriot, Gen. Thaddeus Kosciuszko, soon will acquire its first citizen of Polish descent. S/Sgt. Jerome J. Kratfowicz of Milwaukee, now stationed at Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery Ala., recently married a Kosciuszko girl and has bought a farm near here on which to settle when he is discharged.

L. Lukas Installs Electric Barn Cleaner

SOUTH EDMONTON — Louis Lukas, R.R.1., South Edmonton, is the first farmer in Alberta to install an electric Badger Barn Cleaner. The cleaner is now being introduced to western Canada. One other unit is in operation in Chilliwack, B.C.

Mr. Lukas has been appointed agent and representative of the Badger Company which has its home office and factory in Wisconsin. Peter Lantz of Pete's Electric is in charge of installations.

The Badger Cleaner is a great advancement for dairy farms as labor is greatly reduced. The unit is fully automatic and operates electrically. It can be installed into barns of any shape that is—round, square, oval, T and L shaped.

Mr. Lukas has been on 40 acres for the last five years and now keeps 24 purebred Jerseys. The barn was previously a chicken house designed to accommodate 2,000 hens but due to a heart condition Mr. Lukas had to convert to cattle and the use of as many labor saving devices as possible.

Neighbors and visitors are invited to inspect the new barn cleaner at any time.

Woeful note: Income tax came to Canada, as an emergency measure in 1917.

Town Council Holds Meeting, Plans Clean-Up Week

BOYLE—At a regular meeting of the Town Council, Mr. Plumber was special guest, and gave a report on health improvements for this district.

It was reported that the skating rink well is free from all impurities, and is considered to be A-1 for consumption.

A motion was passed by the Council to hold a clean-up campaign week commencing May 9 and that all residents will be expected to clean-up, paint-up and beautify their yards to the best of their abilities.

Anyone who does not comply with this request will be subject to penalty under the Health Act therefore it is hoped that all will do their utmost to make this village something to be proud of.
